She made me breakfast in bed
But she's on my scramble eggs(YEAH)
Not one single word but said
She just smiled and kissed me on my forehead and left for work
I pick up my fork and I ate
Not suspecting anything
Then I notice a letter on the tray
So I opened up
To see what it had to say
And it read....

I'm leaving you
Don't get up
I'm all ready gone
Finish your food
I locked the door
Good luck and so long

I got up as fast as u could
Well,I almost tripped and fell
Running down the stairs
I look around
And all my furniture was gone
And sure enough
She was no longer there
Good smell coming from the kitchen
I look to find more scrambled eggs
When another note laying by the stove
So I pick it up and this is what it said

I'm leaving you
Don't get up
I'm all ready gone
Finish your food
I locked the door
Good luck and so long

I sat there on the floor,
Asking myself what for
What would make her

Leave out the door
And had me even more confused
Was why would she make breakfast
Before she move?
And I didn't have a clue

I'm leaving you(Leaving you)
Don't get up I'm already gone
(Im already gone)
Finish you food(Your food)
I locked the door
Good luck and so long
(Yeah,yeah,yeah)
