First let me say, I know it's late girl I could tell you were sleeping so sorry to wake you, but what Imma say to you tonight girl it just couldn't wait no, not one more day no, not one more hour we've been apart for some time you went your way i went mine my manhood wont let me cry but to act like im alright

It's something I just cant do keep pretending that I'm okay without you I said its something I just cant do what if i could im just not strong enough to not strong enough to keep lying to you
no I'm not strong enough to

I can see, you looking at me you're thinking too little too late Cause it was me that said that we shouldn't be but that was before I could think straight My pride it made me lie to you and to myself about waht I need so now I, walk around with this lie truly dying inside, acting like im just fine

keep pretendeing that im okay without you I said its something i just cant do
I'm not strong enough to

Said I'm trying to be honest I'm making you a promise im gonna be true to you cause me tryin to be not then without you I would die something I just can no longer do

Said I'm trying to be honest
I'm making you a promise
because me tryin to be not
