"When You're Low"

Is it just me or can you feel when your day is just gonna suck

It's like a pain in your brain from the second you get up Get outta bed, try to ignore it but it's right there on your nose

It's mission is to keep you miserable I guess that's the way it goes

When you're low, you know that the world changes

When you're down, the clouds are the loneliest grey
When you're low, you know everything's in slow motion
And it takes forever to get through your bad day

You wanna smile but your eyes won't do anything but cry

Negative thoughts dance in your mind like how everyday someone dies

Try to shake it off but it's not leaving it's on your skin it's on your clothes

Nothing to do but except it I guess that's the way it goes

When you're low, you know that the world changes

When you're down, the clouds are the loneliest grey
When you're low, you know everything's in slow motion
And it takes forever to get through your bad day

Oh maybe I just shoulda stayed in bed today

Maybe I just shoulda stayed in bed today

Maybe I just shoulda stayed in bed today

Maybe I just shoulda stayed in bed...

When you're low, you know that the world changes

When you're down, the clouds are the loneliest grey
When you're low, you know everything's in slow motion
And it takes forever to get through your bad day

Maybe I just shoulda stayed in bed today
Maybe I just shoulda stayed in bed today
Maybe I just shoulda stayed in bed today
