

Neal Morse

"That Crutch"

Visit "That Crutch" on MotoLyrics.com

You don't need that crutch anymore
You think that without it, you'll fall for sure
But you don't need that crutch anymore so just lay it down and walk through the door

No you don't need that crutch it's been holding you back
If I say you can soar, you can soar
And if you will just trust me there's nothing you'll lack
No you don't need that crutch anymore

You don't need that crutch my son
You weren't made to crawl you were born to run
If you keep it you could fall behind
And one day find yourself on enemy lines

No you don't need that crutch it's been holding you
back
If God says you can soar, you can soar
And if you will just trust Him there's nothing you'll lack
No you don't need that crutch anymore

A crutch doesn't have to be bad or odd
It's whatever we lean on instead of God
Oh it's been so long it's been part of your mind
And you can't imagine how you'll survive
Can't imagine how you'll survive

Oh but you don't need that crutch it's been holding you
back
If God says you can soar, you can soar
And if you will just trust Him there's nothing you'll lack
No you don't need that crutch
You don't need that crutch
You don't need that crutch ..anymore

Visit Neal Morse page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.