So you want an outopsy, we'll put your head on a platter baby, no matter where you run, no matter where you hide, the reapers getting close, he's gonna get you inside, it's never the same, when your breathing with your lungs, i know that i see you face now, fallen into this place that you have taken me, ___ the people you taken before me, now it's time to rise,time to face this revelation, you've gained every word that i have always told you before, out of all ears, never regret, never regret, never remember the decisions that you have made
