hazel thorns touched my skin shots of pleasure buried deep within searching for the master of the fire-train swimming in the sea of lost faces drowning in the pool of nothing drink the purple rain come in my domain now empty eyes mock my pain Sunday sermons proved to be all in vain getting close to the matriarch of loss purple acid raindrops burning human crops devious confessions pulling every string muted merry voices sing please god save me please god save me now master bless me IÂ'll submit right now

Speak oh master how you kill a soul
The chains that bind you here are grim and foul I beg you master won't you let me go Immortal bodies need young souls to feast on

-I am damned
I am damned
-Look for the wisdom machine. It is your only chance for choiceÂ...
