Title : Gold Don't rust

I know you worry ev'ry time I go away.
You wonder will these sweet, sweet feelings shine or fade.
Well, that's a question you don't have to ask.
What heaven makes, it always makes to last.

Gold don't rust. Love don't lie.
I'll be true 'til the day that I die.
Trust in me; you will find, baby, you're the gold in this
heart of mine,
and that gold will shine for a long, long time.

I wish that I could give you what you need from me.
But what good is a promise or a guarantee?
Love is still a simple act of faith.
And a faithful heart is always worth the wait.

Gold don't rust. Love don't lie.
I'll be true 'til the day that I die.
Trust in me; you will find, baby, you're the gold in this
heart of mine,
and that gold will shine for a long, long time.

Love is still a simple act of faith.
And a faithful heart is always worth the wait.

Gold don't rust. Love don't lie.
I'll be true 'til the day that I die.
Trust in me; you will find, baby, you're the gold in this
heart of mine,
and that gold will shine for a long, long time.
Baby you're the gold in this heart of mine,
and that gold will shine for a long, long, long time,
yeah.
