Laying there in bed, all the lights down low
You don't wanna see or talk to anyone you know
It seems like yesterday, you held her in your arms
Then you went away like all those other times

Now you're feeling all alone and empty
Like you wanna fade away
Close your eyes and make time fly, but then
It don't work that way

All your friends try to help you over
You just wanna be alone
I don't know why that cold wind blows
But here is the thing that I know

Heartache's gonna find you no matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear on the radio
When you miss the one you love

Gray skies are there to remind you
The blues are never behind you
When you miss your love

I know you wish that you could be with her right now Living out your dreams, not passing through this lonely town
And down this traveling roads, the only life you've known
You swear you're gonna give it up, but the road goes on and on

Now you're feeling all alone and empty
Like you wanna fade away
Close your eyes and make time fly, but then
It don't work that way

All your friends try to help you over
You just wanna be alone
I don't know why that cold wind blows
But there is one thing that I know

Heartache's gonna find you no matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear on the radio
When you miss the one you love

Gray skies are there to remind you
The blues are never behind you
When you miss your love

There's one thing that I know

Heartache's gonna find you no matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear on the radio
When you miss the one you love

Gray skies are there to remind you
The blues are never behind you
When you miss your love
When you miss your love

Sing it now

Heartache's gonna find you no matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear on the radio
When you miss the one you love

Gray skies are there to remind you
The blues are never behind you
When you miss your love, yeah

Heartache's gonna find you no matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear on the radio
When you miss the one you love
