One Thing On Your Mind

Well her clothes left nothin' to the imagination
One Thing
Everything was in the right places; she was pure temptation
I watched the way she fingered the stem of her champagne glass
And with her long lashed eyes and ruby lips, I knew she was high class
And all the while her hair hung down to her gownless evening strap
And I said "Haven't we met someplace before honey?"
And she said "Cut the crap."

You men are all alike, you've got just one thing on your mind
One thing on your mind
one thing on your mind
You men are all the same
you've got just one thing on your mind
One thing on your mind!

Well I was somewhat taken by surprise and even lost for a word
I started up a conversation;
I was not about to be deterred!
I talked about the third world crisis and the state of the economy
I touched on God and religion, human rights and equality
And I said when it came to women's liberation, every sister had a brother And then I asked her if she fancied some of this cheese
Or a bit of the other

She said you men are all alike, you've got just one thing on your mind
One thing on your mind, one thing on your mind You men are all the same you've got just one thing on your mind

One thing on your mind!

One Thang

Well the linesman's flag was up and the referee's whistle blown He pointed to the spot without hesitation and we were on our own And to cut the long story short we got together and we named a day We bought a house near the top of the league with a garden where the kids can play And at night when they're tucked up real safe in bed she comes up real close to me And I say "Not just now honey, There's football on tv."

You men are all alike, you've got just one thing on your mind
One thing on your mind, one thing on your mind
You men are all the same, you've got just one thing on
your mind
One thing on your...
