What do you see?
What do you feel?
What's going on, you look around, where are you now?
Is this a dream
Or is it real?
Time seems to fly and yet be standing still somehow

No one, no one knows the time
No one, no one can be sure
No one, no one in this whole wide world
No one
No one knows the future

Now is the time
Don't ask me how
Forevermore
The time is Now

You're lost for words
Without a voice
You look around and yet there is no mystery
You see the past
You have no choice
For every moment of your life is history

No one, no one knows the time
No one, no one can be sure
No one, no one in this whole wide world
No one
No one knows the future

Now is the time, don't ask me how
Forevermore the time is Now
Now is the time, don't ask me how
Forevermore the time is Now
Now is the time, don't ask me how
Forevermore the time is Now
Now is the time, don't ask me how
Forevermore the time is Now
Now is the time...
