In Memory of Bruno Shultz

The green eyes showed the tiredness

Although without name
Looking for a new form

Through the cloudy night
There was the brilliance
Mute expounding the wordless
As personal fragment of life

Wonderful and handsome
Prosperity although meaning ruin

Who knows how many old and intelligent martyrdom is in the martyr

And how many cruel idea

Horrible transplant
Hate between strange races and
Species although all prisoners
In unlucky life without solution

Ho can uncover in people the Old faces, lough and glances?

Questions without answer
Illusion without reason
Infancy without happiness
All my words without sense
