I think it's alright, I think it's ok
I saw the sun when I woke up today
I felt the light kissing my face
Giving me strength to search for a place
Where I can crawl inside, and hide behind a dream
I know better
I guess I'm changing...

(Chorus)

This is a time and a place
We are ever changing
Close my eyes, look inside, now
I can see your face
Another time, another place
Although I'm rearranging
I'm still here, I'm never far away

All that we had, it's understood
Forget all the bad, remember the good
There's faith in a soul, there's truth in a song
Doing what's right can hurt more than what's wrong
Sometimes I can't explain emotion from your pain
Everything's changing
I've rearranged...
Now it's alright, it's not the same
Things will be better off this way
I see you now survive somehow
Now I believe you're stronger than before

(Chorus)

This is the time and the place
We are ever changing
Close my eyes,
Look inside, now I can see your face
Another time, another place
Although I'm rearranging
I'm still here, I'm never far away

I'm never far away, I'm never far away
I'm never, I'm never, I'm never far away
I think we're alright, I think we're ok
I saw the sun.....
