Why do you feel like a stranger
Try to act like nothing's wrong
Now I'm feeling your cold shoulder through your fake embrace Showing all your thoughts through expressions on your face

With everything you've got did you find what you need?
Gone too far to stop, oh are you in too deep?

(Chorus)

Take a look around is that what you wanted
Never thought in a thousand years you'd be right
here
In over your head, too far to stop it
No turning back now, it's too late
You're In Too Deep

Take another pretty picture Wait now can you see it all Now I'm feeling your cold shoulder like you don't know my name
Looking so pretentious you won't look my way

With everything you've got, did you forget what you need
Was this your last shot, your last chance to succeed?

(Chorus)

Take a look around is that what you wanted
Never thought in a thousand years you'd be right
In over your head, too far to stop it
No turning back now, it's too late
You're In Too Deep
