Another fight, another bruise on your face.
Inside it hurts more than few days.
I know you think (your) love will conquer all but this ain't part of love.

Believe me I know what it's like to think that things change if you try enough,
but it's not your job to do.
Love shouldn't hurt.

It should make you feel like walking on air.
It should make you feel at home when you're there.
It should make you feel so beautiful as you are, as you
are.

Kiss 'n make up, again telling us how you talked it over and sorted all out
You should know, you deserve so much more than this.
Love shouldn't hurt.

It should make you feel like walking on air.
It should make you feel at home when you're there.
It should make you feel so beautiful as you are, as you
are.
