"Blue String"

I am breathing beside you but I'm not there with you You are sleeping in my bed but I'm dead here with you walls keep coming closer and I am somewhere else tonight like I have always been I have carried this blue string around my arm for too long

You have been too good to me and I have done my best to love you but there's a beast inside of me that keeps me away from anyone tonight I crawl back to my world there's no-one else there and I am all alone the only thing that brings comfort is this blue string I wear if everything is bliss is that what you think this is when you don't even want to know that a dark side exists everything is great

it's perfect and it's safe well I don't live in that world it's not mine the blue string is still so tied

You don't understand at all and you don't know why I'm like this It's not hard to take the blame but when I cry it's not because all of this tonight I crawl back to my world
tonight I crawl back to my world there's no-one else there and I am all scared

everything is great

pulling away your smile is fading away pulling away and everything is fading away

everything is great
