You wanted to save her
From her heavy metal behavior
Soft sadness in her world and
So you made her be your girlfriend
When she sang those songs it made you cry

Now, she's in the hospital
With a fracture to her skull
One tooth goes under her skin
Another comes out again

She told you all the stories
Of the girls and the girls and the boys
Of the drugs and of the parties
Loose morals and Bacardis
When she said those words you felt twisted inside

Now, she's in the hospital
With a fracture to her skull
One tooth goes under her skin
Another comes out again

They picked her up off the carpet
At the bottom of the stairs to your apartment
They asked you lots of questions
About the bruises and the lesions
The police came and took you away

Now, she's in the hospital
With a fracture to her skull
One tooth goes under her skin
Another comes out again

Singin' la lala lalalalalala
La lala lalalalalala...
