You wanted

To save her

From her Heavy Metal behavior

Saw sadness

In her world

And so you made her be your girlfriend

When she sang those songs it made your cry

Now she's in the hospital

With a fracture to her skull

One tube goes under her skin

Another comes out again

She told you all the stories

Of the girls and the girls and the boys

Of the drugs and

Of the parties

Loose morals

And Barcadis

When she said those words you felt twisted inside

Now she's in the hospital

With a fracture to her skull

One tube goes under her skin

Another comes out again
They picked her up off the carpet
The bottom of the stairs to your apartment
They asked you lots of questions
About the bruises and the lesions
The police came and took you away
Now she's in the hospital
With a fracture to her skull
One tube goes under her skin
Another comes out again
Singin'
La-La La-La La La La
La La La La La La
