Scattered bottles, dirty floor
The sun is up still, I want more
Another morning for to deal with
The odds of bringing back the days
When all were still

Young at all that we adore
Triggered us to open doors
Another morning for to deal
For stopping for a moment thinking if or why

It takes some time to heal those goodbyes
And goodnights and feeling it was all

Gone,
Take the glass and cheers to us
The night is glowin, so where are you going?
Go,
Another cork has popped to cheer upon
The night is glowin, so stay in, join in
To know that

It takes some time to heal those goodbyes
And goodnights and feeling it was all done.
Run to your friends, it takes some time
Getting away from

Scattered bottles dirty floor
The sun is up but I want more
A toast to what we used to call
Forevermore

But I say it's not easy
It takes some time to heal those goodbyes
You need not to worry
Let's get this over with,
A drink to the past

Come,
Take the glass and cheers to us
Feel it flowing, until the last drop
But don't ask why

It takes some time to heal those goodbyes
And goodnights and feeling it was all done
Run to your friends run from the life you used to have
You know It takes time to get away from
You know it takes time getting away from the past

Scattered bottles, dirty floor
The sun is up, do you still want more?
