For years this world has been oblivious
Purity abused, scattered recklessly
No rights that exist, revoked morality
Freewill incised, driven to lunacy
As time passes by, we still insist everything's fine
Open your eyes face this reality

Born in fragile spheres of intimacy
Set target to a flaccid wound
An emotional devastation
Of ones mind tortured, doomed

Your spirit, defiled and stranded
In oceans of ignorance
Consider the life of a nation
No prosperity, nor existence

Stand up, stand up... defy
Your false morals, I deny

This construction of such subliminal plot "is so indulging"
This destruction on an insignificant verve "is overwhelming"
Righteousness enslaved "left to serve this pain is tearing"

Ominous
This epidemic scheme
Absurdity
This stained regime

I have come to realize
United we stand, divided we fall
Prohibit this naivety
Generate some self-respect
Elevate your faith to obtain unity

Born in fragile spheres of intimacy
Set target to a flaccid wound
An emotional devastation

Of ones mind tortured, doomed

Your spirit left defiled and stranded
In oceans of ignorance
Consider the life of a nation
No prosperity, nor existence

The oath, the oath provoked
Cursed by the original sin denote

This construction of such subliminal plot "is so indulging"
This destruction on an insignificant verge "is overwhelming"
Righteousness enslaved "left to serve this pain is tearing"

Venomous
This epidemic scheme
Avidity
This strange regime
