What is it like to be so good?
How does it feel to use those eyes?
What is it like to know you could?
Crucify at any time, oh yeah

How do you feel when you look my way?
What is it like to see right through me?
When I turn your way does it make you smile?
Yeah, you never really knew me, yeah

And I've been a long way
Just to see you again
You could make it my day
If I could just pretend
You could make it my day
You could make it my day

One of these nights I'm gonna make you scream

One of these nights you're gonna let me in
Give it up and even the score
Oh, you never let me win

And I've been a long way
Just to see you again
You could make it my day
If I could just pretend

And I've been a long way
Just to see you again
You could make it my day
If I could just pretend

You could make it my day
You could make it my day
You could make it my day

You could make it my day
You could make it my day
You could make it my day
You could make it my day

You could make it my day
You could make it my day
You could make it my day
