Smell the smoke in the morning from another's cigarette Always seems to remind me of the time I've yet to face but better yet It reminds me of the sun Two hours to soon When I want to be sleeping till well afternoon It's things Like these that remind me of why I'd live for the dream time and die for the Evening sky Yes I love the evening when it all falls on me I wanna fly with the Evening owls And sit beside them in the trees Smell the sent in the air slicing Past blades of a fan Lie awake here just thinking of just how long I can I can If I try to not ask why My skull is my skyline my stars are my evening skys
It's things just like these that remind me of why I'd live for the dream time
And die for the evening sky
