Everyday i ask, i've got to wonder why
You don't turn me away
Of all things i have, you never hear me say
Only you today

And i ask you Lord, do you ever say no
Such boundless grace, my inner face
And i crumble in defeat
But i stumble to my feet

Who are you? who are you? who are you? who are you?
Who are you? who are you? who are you? who are you?

And everyday i wake, i ask myself why
Things, they never change
But even if i fall, you won't turn me away
Because your love remains

And i ask you Lord, do you ever say no
Such boundless grace, my inner face
And i crumble in defeat
But i stumble to my feet

Who are you? who are you? who are you? who are you?
Who are you? who are you? who are you? who are you?
