eyes reflecting tears of inner sadness as the fragments of my heart fall to the floor and this room where you convey a frowning mastery of lingering regret, you never let your heart go free and the smile that used to glow when i came by has faded over time, who says we never changed at all

Vacant eyes that lost desire long ago, are the only eyes you ever show and the only thing it seems i'll ever know is When it comes down to avoiding eyes, yea i think you're the best, yeah i think that you're the best

one more kiss good, one more kiss goodbye I promise you, that this will be the last time.
one more kiss to, one more kiss to make you mine another song I wasted on you just to prove i still want you.

I promise you, this this will be the last time.
one more kiss to, one more kiss to make you mine another song I wasted on you just to show i sill want you
