That's why!

Remember when, when you called my name, it felt so good to hear the truth

Forget love, and what the future brings because its over between me and you.

Its time to move on and I know you will be missing me, missing everything that we had and what and what we could be, it wasn't meant to be that's all I can say

Come realize and your bound to see.

That's why I am so bitter now (I'll drink you away)

Because you lie (straight to my face, straight to my face you lie)

That's why it doesn't matter now (I'm drifting away)

Because you lie (thinking the same this ain't a game its my life)

But why?

When your with him, and you scream my name, it still feels good to have control

Now no ones there, there to take my place, and no one will play your games.

Does it make you think that when you were with me to give you everything that I gave of what's inside of me.

Its getting harder to see and even harder to breath.

The verge of suicide constantly breaking on me.

That's why I am so bitter now (I'll drink you away)

Because you lie (straight to my face, straight to my face you lie)

That's why it doesn't matter now (I'm drifting away)

Because you lie (thinking the same this ain't a game its my life)

But Why?

Put yourself in front of me. It effects what I really see

Put yourself in front of me it effects what I really see on the inside (Inside)

Put yourself in front of me it effects what I really see (on the inside)

Put yourself in front of me it effects what I really see on the inside

Put yourself in front of me it effects what I really see
(inside of you)
Put yourself in front of me it effects what I really see
Put yourself in front of me it effects what I really see
(inside of you)
Put yourself in front of me it effects what I really see (inside)

You Lie!
Take me to a better place
You lie
I can't make you fade away
You lie
Take me to a better place
You lie
Take me away

And that's why I am so bitter now (I'll drink you away)
Because you lie (straight to my face, straight to my face you lie)
That's why it doesn't matter now (I'm drifting away)
Because you lie (thinking the same this ain't a game its my life)

that's why I am so bitter now (I'll drink you away)
