If you're looking for me
I suggest you look in the last place
That you will ever find me
Cause I'm going out
With all my friends tonight
For once

If you can't do one whole thing
Then I suggest you go out too
And smile up a storm
Cause we're all as sad
As you think that you are
So just smile

See I've been looking up
Looking down
Looking side to side
Wondering why this world is the way that it is
And why my momma cries
Every now and then I'm tryin a rest my head on the floor
Half stoned thinking damn this shit getz old

And if you have a problem
I thoroughly suggest you look within Before you go and blame someone whose been blaming someone else
Their whole life
And I know we all got problems
But we got a bigger problem
We've been falling into pieces
And our power hides the knowledge
We've been working our damn life
But for what? for them.

See I've been looking up
Looking down
Looking side to side
Wondering why this world is the way that it is
And why my momma cries
floor

Half stoned thinking damn this shit getz old
