I know I'll break it, it's happening again
I tried to someone I'm not and I just can't pretend My smile is fake and I know you see right through
I want to leave right now so take my hand and lead me out

What if we just carry on tonight
Never stop we could leave it all behind
What if we never turn around at all
We don't have any reason to go home (x2)

No, I can't take it, you know I hate this part
I'm claustrophobic and I'm panicing again inside
My head's exploding, my brain's at boiling point
I have to leave right now so save me please just pull me

What if we just carry on tonight
Never stop we could leave it all behind
What if we never turn around at all
We don't have any reason to go home x2

I'm breaking out I've had enough
I'm done with this, over and out
There's no better time than now
Lets disappear into the night
Everything will be alright

What if we just carry on tonight
Never stop we could leave it all behind
What if we never turn around at all
We don't have any reason to go home x2
