It's so cold, I've been here once before
A long time ago but I'm freezing even more
I'm not done I need one minute more
To realize that it's colder than before

And it seems somehow that it's over now
The rain keeps on falling down it's pouring down
It seems somehow it's over now

Not a sound breath in and out again
The last time I try not to give in
I lay down I close my eyes and see
In black and white a fading memory

And it seems somehow that it's over now
The rain keeps on falling down it's pouring down
It seems somehow it's over now

And it seems somehow that it's over now
The rain keeps on falling down it's pouring down
It seems somehow it's over now x2
