She walks in the room, her nose in the air
All jaws drop, the guys just stare Perfect complexion, a perfect smile
The spotlight's on her, but meanwhile
Her friend sits by unnoticed
By admiring eyes
But God sees more than make-up
He sees what's beneath the outward disguise
The beauty outside
Sullied by pride
So fine
Congratulations, you're beautiful
And full of yourself
Some friend you are
A cross on your neck
But her's on her heart
So golden now friend sits by unnoticed
by admiring eyes
he sees whats beneath the outward disguise
the beauty outside
Sullied by pride
So fine
Congratulations, you're beautiful
