This is my relapse that I've succumb to
I went through things no one should have to
I could have never let this slip
I could have let this slip

And everything I do, it reflects you
You went through things no one should have to
I could have never let this slip
I could have let this slip

It's all those things you say out of nowhere
I'm taken back by you
It's all those places that you've shown me
I'm taken back by you, taken back by you

This is the future, can we save it?
We've done things no one thought we could do
This is the picture, can you paint it?
We could have let this slip

And everything I do, it reflects you
Make sure you know what's going on
Just because it might relate to
I'm taken back by you

It's all those things you say out of nowhere
I'm taken back by you
It's all those places that you've shown me
I'm taken back by you

And nothing beats not knowing
What's gonna happen next
For all the nights you've held me so long
I'm taken back by you, taken back by you

Yeah, I owe everything to you
Every darkness, I'll shine through
I have doubts, don't blame me
Don't let this slip, don't let this slip

It's all those things you say out of nowhere
I'm for all the nights you've held me so long

I'm taken back by you

Taken back by you, taken back by you
Taken back by you, taken back by you
Taken back by you, taken back by you
Taken back by you

It's all those things you say out of nowhere
I'm taken back by you
It's all those places that you've shown me
I'm taken back by you

And nothing beats not knowing
What's gonna happen next
For all the nights you've held me so long
I'm taken back by you
