Don't tell me
What it's like to love someone
A different song for a different girl
And to think I might be wrong

Tell tale heart again
Words like these won't win
These words and hearts
You would come over to talk
We'd act like there is something to say
I've learned that time can heal your wounds
But the reminder of a scar will stay

Stay
Right here, right by me
Stay
The flame has died
Stay
Right here, right by me
Stay
The flame has died down

Don't tell me
What it's like to love someone
A different song for a different girl
And to think I might be wrong

Tell tale heart again
Words like these won't win
These words and hearts
You would come over to talk
We'd act like there is something to say
I've learned that time can heal your wounds
But the reminder of a scar will stay

Stay
Stay
The flame has died
Stay
Stay

The flame has died down
