We know we can hurt each other real bad - You know my weak spots, I know yours - How we come we egg each other on and on - Like battered boxers staying the course

- How come we never ever come to blows - When we want to break each others necks - How come we stab each other with these words - When all we really want is sex

- Why can't we talk it out - Why can't we fight it out - Why can't we kiss and go to bed

- The seething angers burns around the room - The carefully poisoned arrows fly - And in the morning dirty tired hearts - And the scars of battle in our eyes
