Pushing up on Carlisle Road into the seething shadows Through the plastic visor Åç?? a hail of broken kerbstone
Fire-lit-faces, all the noise Åç?? so much hatred What I remember thinking Åç?? I can't believe this is happening
All I remember thinking

Came home four, four-thirty, Emma was waiting up for me
News chanel drone on the TV, her arms clapsed around her knee
She looked up but said nothing

I went up to the kids bedroom, touched their sleeping faces Wondered how I could protect them Wondered how to protect them
