Honey, look, there they are
The ones I told you about
More than once I've watched them pass
On their daily route
He leans a little on her arm
His legs are not that strong
But she still lets him be in charge
As she helps him get along
CHORUS:
They're living proof
That love goes on
And it doesn't appear that the romance is gone

They know side by side
Is where they belong
And in these aging hearts
Love goes on
I can't help but wonder when
Time has turned us grey
Will we look that much in love
And hear someone else say
(CHORUS)
