I try to look back and see where we crossed that line so long ago
Don't know when it was or how, should have looked ahead before the go
It's so hard to ever see the right thing at the time to be
Took the plunge, should not have done, would not have done, should not have

[Chorus]

What went wrong, how can this be right
Just don't know
What went wrong, how can this be right
How to know
What went wrong, how can this be right
Just don't know
What went wrong, how can this be right
How to know

Now the time has ventured on, it seems so different than before
Why I didn't see the truth will be a mystery forevermore
Tried to give all that I could, but it was just thrown back at me
Took the plunge, should not have done, would not have done, should not have

[Chorus]

What went wrong, how can this be right
Just don't know
What went wrong, how can this be right
How to know
What went wrong, how can this be right
Just don't know
What went wrong, how can this be right
How to know

Now that time has ventured on, it seems so different than before
Why I didn't see the truth will be a mystery forevermore

[Chorus]

What went wrong, how can this be right
Just don't know
What went wrong, how can this be right
How to know
What went wrong, how can this be right
Just don't know
What went wrongâ€¦!
Should not have done, would not have done, should not have done!
