I've got no explanation for why I feel this way / I ain't seen sun for months and the skies are always grey / It's been that kind of winter, you want to leave the north behind / But I've never been so happy, I'm in a summer state of mind /

On my darkest day, your light shined right in / Now I'm miles away from where I've gone and been / What else can I say about the state I'm in? / People say I've changed since I came down, down from the mountain / I see angels and devils surrounding us down here / We were born somewhere in between love and fear / Just like a compass needle, we spin from north to south /
We see and hear no evil 'till it's coming from our mouth

My cup's been filled since I came down from the mountain / And the wheat's been milled since I came down from the mountain / My slate's been cleaned since I came down from the mountain / My soul's been redeemed since I came down from the mountain
