She was my heart, my soul, my girl, my life
I want that shit, I'll make that sacrifice
You know I know, you know what's on my mind
I like the sex but we're just wastin' time

No replay's, like "Shifty please stay"
Sick of breakin' up every other week day
And we can't seem to see eye to eye
You even yell when I try to get high

And I can't keep you, you're evil
And all my friends think that I should leave you It's a stand still that I tried to see through
But your actin' like a bitch so I got to leave you

Oh, I think I've seen this once before
I know the way it ends when you just walk out the front
door
Oh, I think I've seen this once before
I know the way it ends when you just walk out the front
door

You're just a waste of my time
Waste of my time, waste of my time
Waste of my time, my time

You came, I went, you saw, I fucked, I left Went neck to neck, but now it's sudden death
Get out my bed, I came to make it mine
Don't want no head, stop all that wastin' time

Oh, I think I've seen this once before
I know the way it ends when you just walk out the front
door
Oh, I think I've seen this once before
I know the way it ends when you just walk out the front
door

You're just a waste of my time
Waste of my time, waste of my time
Waste of my time, my time

Waste of my time, waste of my time
Waste of my time, waste of my time, my time

I'm mad but, I packed your bags up
Put 'em by the door, you can have that stuff
Story of the whore, and a man's bad luck
But it's all for the best, I guess, next

Now I feel like the man on the moon, like Staring down on the world lookin' for a new girl
And a new life, and I guess one day
Someday I'ma get it right

Oh, I think I've seen this once before
I know the way it ends when you just walk out the front
door
Oh, I think I've seen this once before
I know the way it ends when you just walk out the front
door

You're just a waste of my time
Waste of my time, waste of my time
Waste of my time

You're just a waste of my time
Waste of my time, waste of my time
Waste of my time, my time
