I'm breaking in, I'm breaking down
Your walls can't keep me from what I once found
Your shackles bend, no chains suffice
Don't push me down because I already tried
There's no end to this pain
I'm at the bottom again
Seeking what's mine
Erasing their lies
I can't see, I can't breathe
But you won't get the best of me
I won't descend
Decimation of apprehension.
There's no end to this pain
I'm at the bottom again
Seeking what's mine
Erasing their lies
Erasing their minds
Trying to find
Deviation of the other side
Trying to decide
Whether to move forward
Or remain here blind.
Breakdown.
Hear no evil, see no evil
If your eyes are open you'll believe what's real.
