"Rocket Ship"

You can see the flames around the sun
It's time to leave and start to become Extraterrestrial

All it's ever been is just beginning
Space is waiting for us - waiting for us to evolve
Dreams are past and future memories
Of species and times - from different solar systems
Certain plants and animals will evolve too
Far far into the future - but only a moment away

We will be able to translate the codes left for us
And with time we will leave our bodies
Become thought patterns - pure energy and light source

You can see the flames around the sun
It's time to leave

Far far into the future - but only a moment away
Far far into the future - but only a moment away

We are
Rocket ship
