A certain saddness
In your smile
Haunts my memory
More than I ever thought
It could
More Than I ever thought it would
A certain saddness in your smile
I will always remember

A certain softness
In your eyes
Captivates me
More than it should
More than I ever
Thought it could
A certain softness in your eyes
I will always remember

If I could tell her the way I feel
I wouldn't want to anyway
For that would only break the spell
And you know very well
I couldn't betray her

A certain wildness
In her style
Fascinates me
More than I ever thought
It would
More than I ever thought it could
A certain wildness in her style
I will always remember
