Last summer,
Do you remember when you promised you'd love no other?
Dancing in the rain

As the rain fell down and drenched our clothes
We were kissing on our tippy toes
Love came instantly

And I know that this summer we'll meet again

As we sit on the side of the road, the cars pass us by
You grab my hands and look into my eyes
Oh, girl, please tell me what your thinking
What's going through your mind?
Of course we'll meet again and things will be just fine!
