Peer into the dark night sky
The stars they shine
Oh so bright, and
I think that ones falling down
You should make a wish upon it now
Before it falls right out of sight
All your dreams could come true tonight (tonight)

And as you watch it fly away, you try
To think of what your wanting, in your mind
But, nothing seems to come to you in time
Oh, shooting star! please give me a sign!

This chance seemed once in a lifetime, but
Then you see another light in the sky
Racing toward where your standing, it's
Your chance to make things right!

You refuse to let it escape you this time
Thoughts of your desires consume your mind
Suddenly it seems you're able to see
Yelling into the sky as you let your thoughts free!

(Free, let your thoughts free)
(Free, free, let your thoughts free)
(Free, free, let your thoughts free)
(Free, free, let your thoughts free)
