We were meant to open doors
And we were meant to face the danger.
Never knowing what's in store,
And never having met a stranger.
One of us is big and brave
And one of us is tender-hearted.
One of us is tempting fate,
And the last but not least of us,
Has faith enough for each of us.

And I know that I could never go in alone
'Cause I believe I'd be lost without you here beside me

It's like daylight at midnight
It's my favorite dream
Where nothing's really as it seems.
Don't wake me just take me
Take me by the hand and I will believe.

We have always been protected
Little ones should run and hide.
But we expect the unexpected,
When love arrives and calls us all inside.
And I know that even when the wind blows,
I'll be fine cause you and I
Will get by 'till Springtime.

It's like daylight at midnight
It's my favorite dream
Where nothing's really as it seems.
Don't wake me just take me
Take me by the hand and I will believe.

Don't close your eyes I'm right beside you
Don't be afraid I'm never far.
You and I were always meant to
Wake the dreamers from the dark
Come out, come out wherever you are!

It's like daylight at midnight
It's my favorite dream

Where nothing's really as it seems.
Don't wake me just take me
Take me by the hand and I will believe.
