I started out with a pretty good plan this morning.
But between what I should and would my plan was aborted,
I decided to kick back, lie on the beach and just relax
There's nothing better than doing nothing
When you've got so much to doâ€¦!

I tried real hard to get myself motivated,
But my body kept telling me 'do it later',
So there I was, such a typical bum,
Lounging on the sand and soaking up the sunâ€¦!

It's all about the change in atmosphereâ€¦!
The wind shifts the moon pulls
And then suddenly we don't care
It's something about the pressure, and what's hanging in the air
And it's all about the change in atmosphereâ€¦!

Now everyone at times can be a little moody,
But when the skies are gray, we seem to lose our inner beauty,
We can feel it in our bones, when the clouds won't leave us alone,
Our attitudes help predict the rainâ€¦!

And it's all about the change in atmosphereâ€¦!
The earth turns, the sun sets
Sometimes it's oh so clear
It's been known to make men crazy,
It's the weather's fault you'll hear
And it's all about the change in Atmosphere

It's barometric, sometimes hectic This gravitational pull of the sun,
Cold shoulders and warm fronts, Temperatures flare and emotions runâ€¦!

And it's all about the change in Atmosphere
The planets move, the tides flow,
And the whole world seems too act so weird
It messes with your senses,

It's much stronger than we feared
And it's all about the change in atmosphere€
