

Nick Granato

"Floatin' On The Sea Of Life"

Visit "Floatin' On The Sea Of Life" on MotoLyrics.com

Words & Music By
Nick Granato

Chorus

I'm deep sea fishing in life's big ocean,
In a little bitty boat called emotion,
Drifting aimlessly without direction,
Trawling for a little bit of love and affection,
I lost my oars and my engine's flooded,
Soon I'll be bait just a rub-a-dub-dubbing,
Just another chum in the endless chain,
Just food for thought - floating on the sea of life!

V1

I'd throw out my anchor but I don't have a line,
My sails are all tattered and there's not much time,
There's danger all around, I think enough is enough,
With the sharks in the water and the buzzards above!

Chorus

V2

I should've cut bait cause now I'm taking on water,
Now It's too late I didn't do what I ought of,
What's gonna happen is anybody's guess,
Should I send out a mayday or an SOS

Chorus

Bridge

What I need is some sand and a palm tree to hug,
Or just a little dingy and a bottle of rum!

© 2001 Song Harbor Music/BMI

Visit Nick Granato page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.