You live in a castle
A castle made of light
You know it's useless
Useless to make demands
It's fascinating
All your fantasies
They're complicating
What you can't really see

And now is the way
As the child used to say
You're as green as the trees
You grow outside

And I tried to reach you
But you're too far to find
Living in your castle,
The castle inside your mind
Create your dimension
No family or friends
And it's complicating
How you could make amends

And now is the way
As the child used to say
You're as green as the trees
You grow outside

It's fascinating
All your fantasies
It's fascinating
What you can't really see

But now is the day
As the child falls away
You're as green as the trees
You grow outside...
