You said happiness will find me
I never knew it 'til I met you I can't find my way without you here

You say I'll find my own way back but it's got to be without you
But how can I sing this lullaby without you by my side

You said you've seen just a little too much
But I promise you I'm changing
I can't tell you how much I need you in my life right now

You say I'll find my own way back but it's got to be without you this time
But how can I sing this lullaby without you by my side

You say I'll find my own way back but it's got to be
without you
But how can I sing this lullaby without you by my side

You say I'll find my own way back but it's got to be
without you this time
But how can I sing this lullaby without you by my side
