Hopeless, wondering if anybody noticed,
Feeling like you're drifting out of focus
Cause you're hopeless
You're just a hollow soul.
Crying, feeling like a part of you is dyin,
Reachin for the strenth to keep you tryin
Still you're cryin
You're livin in the cold.

Say goodbye to the people
You don't need in your life
Say goodbye to the heartache
And darkness of the night
Say hello to the risin of the sun
There will always be a brighter day
You got to carry on

Fire, burning with the passion it desires,
Suddenly you're hands are reachin higher
You're on fire
Your love has made you whole

Say goodbye to the people
And poison in your life
Say goodbye to the heartache
And trouble and strife
Say hello to the love thats just begun
There will always be a brighter day

You have to carry on

And no man is an island
You can't go on alone
When you're heart starts breakin
You need to come back home
We're all lookin for somethin
The search for the one
On and on and on and on

Hopeless, wondering if anybody noticed,
Feeling like you're drifting out of focus
Cause you're hopeless

You're just a hollow soul.

Say goodbye to the people
You don't need in your life
Say goodbye to the heartache
And darkness of the night
Say hello to the risin of the sun
There will always be a brighter day
You got to carry on

Say goodbye to the people
And poison in your life
Say goodbye to the heartache
Say hello to the love thats just begun
There will always be a brighter day
You have to carry on
