Seems like our love is on the road to nowhere fast
All my life I thought a love like this would last
But every road can hide a corner we can't see
I had a vision that I woke up by your side
I felt you're breathin' and our souls were intertwined
But who controls love's destiny not me

And we had it all right in our hands
We had the room to fly and still the place to land

And so I'm callin' now, I'm callin' now
You're the only one
Who can say words from what we've done
That don't leave me hangin' up
I'm reachin' out and praying you'd come back again
It's just darkness of evenin'
And you're the only place my heart has ever been

Maybe I'm longing in a ways of love naive
Maybe I'm desperate for a reason to believe
There wasn't anywhere, I thought that we would fall, oh
I've seen perfection in a rainbow in the sky
I've seen a child who make the coldest run and cry
But loving you I thought was greater than them all

And we had it all, just you and me
And now there is a doorway to my heart without a key

And so I'm callin' now and I'm callin' now
You're the only one
Who can say words from what we've done
That don't leave me hangin' up
I'm reachin' out and praying you'd come back again
It's just darkness of evenin'
And you're the only place my heart has ever been

Wherever you are right now, come back baby show me how you feel Because I'm lost without you here

I'm callin' now and I'm callin' now
You're the only one
Now take a look at what I become

And don't leave me hangin' up
I'm reachin' out and prayin' you'd come back again
It's just darkness of evenin'
And you're the only place my heart has ever been
