don't let it end,
don't let it end,
don't ever let it end,
don't ever let it end...

Well, I've got two tickets to the game, it's be great if i could take you to it this sunday, and i'll walk you home when the whole thing's done, if you're there, i don't even care which team won, we can stop at the coffee shop, and make fun of the cops in the parking lot, we can laugh as we both pretend that we're not in love that we're just good friends.

Well, i'm tired of pretending but i'm terrified of it ending, i know if not for you there's nothing i could do to ever let it end.
And i know you feel the same way
'cause you told me drunk on your birthday. and as you pulled to me you whispered in my ear, "don't ever let it end"

don't let it end,
don't let it end,
don't ever let it end,
don't ever let it end.

Saturday, i'm gonna take her out cause her favorite band is gonna play downtown.
Gonna sing the song we've all heard of about those two young friends that should've feel in love.
Later on, we'll cut through the park and she can hold my hand cause she hates the dark, and we can laugh as we both pretend that we're not in love that we're just good friends.

but i'm terrified of it ending,
i know if not for you there's nothing i could do to ever let it end.
And i know you feel the same way
cause you told me drunk on your birthday.
and as you pulled to me
you whispered in my ear, "don't ever let it end"
don't let it end,

please promise me that this won't end
don't ever let it end.

The greatest times we ever had it's crazy now just looking back, we can laugh you never know where life's gonna go 'cause we're the only ones who'll ever know, about sunday night just her and i sitting side by side in the full moonlight i pulled her close, just to hold her tight and the both of us could tell it just felt right she looked at me in the sweetest way like she could tell what the hell i was about to say must've took a while just to find the words 'cause she cut me off and finally said it first.

but i'm terrified of it ending,
i know if not for you there's nothing i could do to ever let it end.
And i know you feel the same way
cause you told me drunk on your birthday.
and as you pulled to me
don't ever let it end.
