I like your pants around your feet
I like the dirt that's on your knees
I like the way you still say please while your looking up
at me
You're like my favorite damn disease
I love places that we go
I love the people you know
I love the way you can't say no
Too many long nights in a row
I like the powder on your nose

And now I know who you are
It wasn't that hard
To figure you out
And now I know who you are
It wasn't that hard
Just to figure you out

I like the freckles on your chest
And I like the way you like me best
I like the way you're not impressed
While you put me to the test
I like the white stains on your dress
I love the way you pass the check
I love he good times that you wrecked
I love you like the self-respect
While you passed out on the deck
I love my hands around you neck

And now I know you are
It wasn't that hard
To figure you out
And now I know who you are
It wasn't that hard
Just to figure you out

I like your pants around your feet
I like the dirt that's on your knees
I like the way you still say please while your looking up
at me
You're like my favorite damn disease

I hate places that we go
I hate the people you know
I hate the way you can't say no
Too many long nights in a row
I hate the powder on your nose

And now I know who you are
It wasn't that hard
To figure you out
And now I know who you are
It wasn't that hard
Just to figure you out
